Subject: Iyana Farrar Recommendation Letter

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Iyana Farrar, who served as an intern with University City Partners in Charlotte, North Carolina. During her time with our organization, Iyana distinguished herself through her professionalism, creativity, and ability to contribute meaningfully to strategic initiatives.

University City Partners operates at the intersection of economic development, placemaking, and small business support. This requires interns who can think both conceptually and practically. Iyana demonstrated that balance, particularly through her work on the University City Partners Food Truck concept.

Iyana played a key role in helping explore and shape this initiative, which was designed to activate public spaces, support local entrepreneurs, and enhance community engagement. She assisted with research, concept development, and operational considerations that helped move the idea from an initial vision into a more structured and actionable framework. Her contributions required thoughtful analysis of logistics, branding alignment, and the broader economic impact of the concept within University City.

What stood out most was her ability to see the Food Truck concept not simply as an event activation, but as a strategic tool for placemaking and small business incubation. She asked thoughtful questions, offered creative insights, and approached the project with a strong sense of ownership. Her work supported internal discussions about feasibility, sustainability, and long term value to the district.

Beyond this initiative, Iyana was dependable, organized, and responsive to feedback. She communicated clearly, met deadlines consistently, and conducted herself with professionalism in both internal and external settings. She represents the type of emerging leader who understands how community focused ideas must be paired with disciplined execution.

I recommend Iyana Farrar without reservation. I am confident she will continue to grow and contribute at a high level in any academic or professional environment she chooses to pursue.

Please feel free to contact me should you require any additional information.

Sincerely,

Keith Stanley
President, University City Partners
